

NEW HOMES

Out & About

Get an earful

THESE mini versions of the gorgeous Chef'n G'rabbit salt and pepper grinders released last year are magnetic. They perch on the door of the fridge – always handy, always cute. Their size makes them ideal for boats, caravans or picnics. Just squeeze the bunny ears to activate. Grind coarseness can be adjusted. Chef'n G'rabbit Juniors will be available at David Jones and homewares stores from April. $38.95. For stockists, phone 1800 651 146.

Cobwebs you'll want around

WE LOVE Cobwebs' attitude. "Good girls go to heaven. Bad girls go everywhere," one of their luggage tags says. "Adventure before dementia," another proclaims. The company has an eclectic and funky range of goodies. Quite a few are travel related but there are also napkins and cheerfully cynical, retro tea towels for $22.95. For stockists or for more details, go to cobwebs.com.au.

Spectrum of sharp colours

COLORI kitchen knives by Kuhn Rikon are a vivid new spark in kitchen utensils. The range includes paring, utility, chef's, bread, serrated and Santoku knives in high-carbon, stain-resistant steel with a durable, non-stick coating in yellow, red, green, black, blue or purple. Each one comes with a safety sheath.

Prices range from $15.50 for the paring knives to $30.50 for the large Santoku. Available from kitchenware retailers. Phone 1800 650 601 or visit vgmimports.com.au for stockists.

